

Snapshots of the Week

Week: 28 June to 02 July 2021

This week...

Year 2

Year 2 have been busy bees as they have started their new module about habitats. As well as designing a bird hide, they have also been practicing their practical DT skills, joining wood in L joins, T joins and + joins. These DT skills will be essential when they build their model Bird Hides, so we can be real scientists when we observe the wildlife in our grass area. Our poetic writing is also developing beautifully, as we innovate our own version of the poem Slowly the Tide Creeps Up the Sand by James Reeves. One learner came up with this beautiful line "softly the butterfly flaps its wings, softly the humming bird sings." What a brilliant bunch of learners they are!

Year 3

The suspense of finding out Michael's decision about whether to leave Kensuke's Island or not is keeping us all at the edge of our seats in Year 3. The fiction book, Kensuke's Kingdom, by Michael Morpurgo is scoring high as a recommended read by our learners so far. With only a few chapters to go we'll see whether that remains.

This week we've been recapping how to answer number calculations with all four operations in our Maths. We're so proud of the learners for choosing their preferred strategy to solve these accurately.

Geography has taught us about Biomes, and we've been specifically focusing on the Woodland, UK biome and contrasting that to a Rainforest Biome. Why not ask a Year 3 learner all about it to see what knowledge they can retrieve!

EYFS Obstacle Challenge

What another fantastic PE lesson our EYFS learners had this week! They were challenged to complete a variety of activities that tested their balance, co-ordination and agility skills all against the clock.

I am pleased to say that this week's winners and welcoming Charlie The PE Bear back into their classroom are Bluebells!! Super proud of the amazing amount of effort and enjoyment all our EYFS learners continue to show every week in their PE lessons.

Class Names

We are delighted to announce our new class names! We decided on the names of gems as we feel this reflects how precious they all are.
