Dear Parents/Carers

Strike Action

You will have heard much in the press about the strike action taking place on 01 February in schools in England.

There are a number of teaching unions and so far, only the National Education Union (NEU) have voted to strike. Other unions are proposing to re-ballot and we are keeping a close eye on the outcomes of their consultations.

We are currently assessing the impact strikes may have on our schools and will write to you as soon as possible to let you know what arrangements we will need to make.

We do appreciate the impact strike action has on families and we will do all we can to ensure you have as much notice as possible, should you need to make alternative arrangements for your children on Wednesday, 01 February.

Yours sincerely,

Rhonda Moore
